LONGMEADOW HIGH SCHOOL
1955
-LB-

Well known to everyone at Longmeadow High School is MISS MARGERY D. BAIRD, our librarian. From her come suggestions for that all-important book report, or a cheerful hello to brighten any day. She is more than the person who tries to keep seniors quiet in the library: she is recognized as the friend, companion, and unofficial advisor of us all.

During the few years that our school has existed, it has grown in many ways. Miss Baird, as one of the original members of the faculty, has been closely connected with every phase of change and development. Throughout this period of expansion, her constant helpfulness, her pleasant personality, and her quick perception have been valued at one time or another by every member of our class. She has watched this class progress, and has taken a vital interest in our every step.

Miss Baird, we thank you for your sincere and enduring friendship.

Dedication

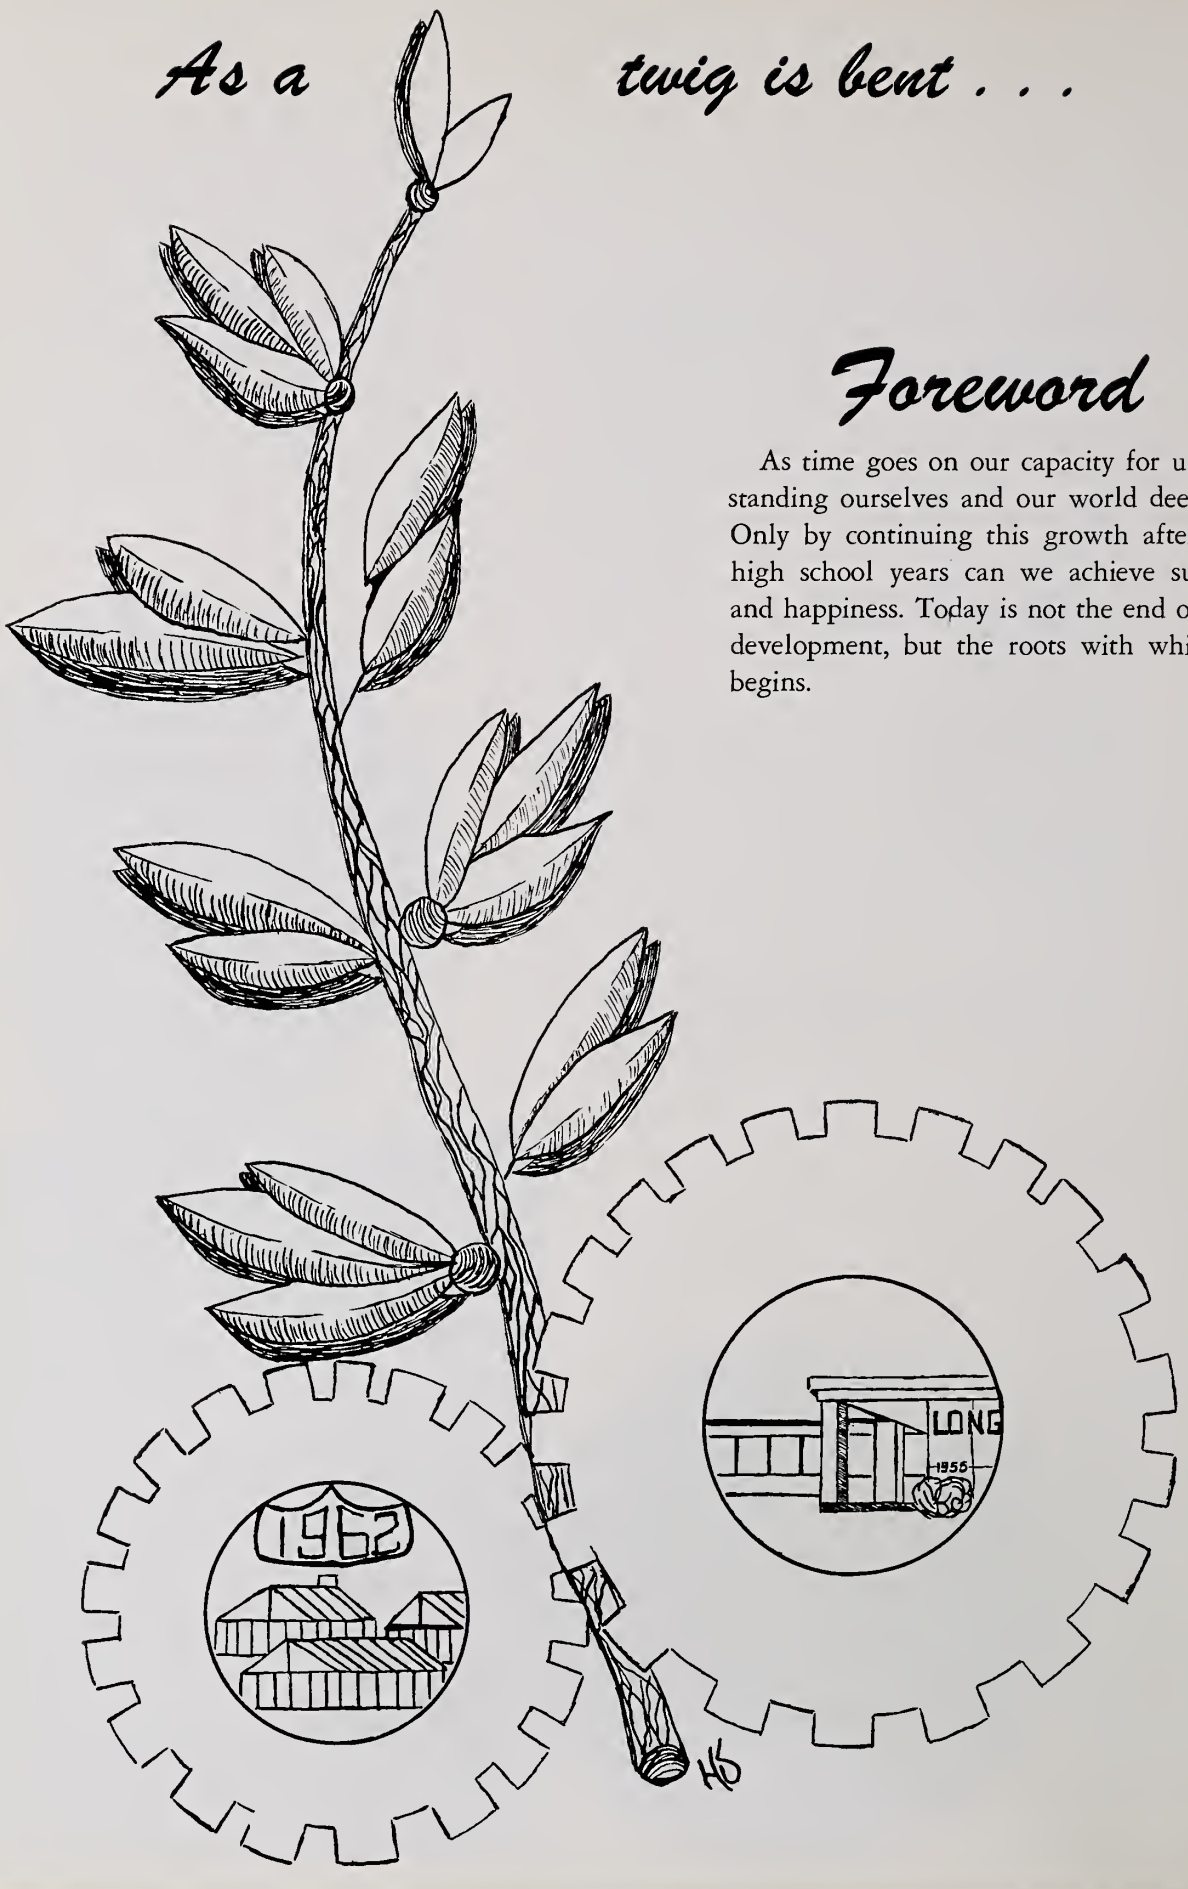
Two special people have helped our school to grow, have helped us to grow from freshmen into seniors, and have given us a sense of sincerity and honor to carry with us all of our lives. The work of Coach D'Agostino lights the way for our growth of body and spirit, and Miss Baird encourages us to grow in knowledge and personality. We, the class of 1962, acknowledging their constant friendship and untiring assistance, dedicate this yearbook to Margery D. Baird and Robert D'Agostino.

The strength of our sports and physical education program is due to the work of ROBERT D'AGOSTINO, better known as Coach. No one could ask for a more skillful man as director of athletics, for his guidance and knowledge keep our teams victorious. More important, however, than his guidance of winning teams has been his role, from the very first year of the school's history, in creating our reputation for good sportsmanship.

And yet his contributions do not end even here. Coach can also take pride in knowing that he has been a major force in building the character of each of us. His management, advice, and winning smile show his sincere interest in every student, and sometimes the keeness of his wit is used to remind his players that a team must be more than one man.

Thank you, Mr. D'Agostino, for giving us the right start toward all our futures.

As a twig is bent . . .



Foreword

As time goes on our capacity for understanding ourselves and our world deepens. Only by continuing this growth after our high school years can we achieve success and happiness. Today is not the end of our development, but the roots with which it begins.

TO THE SENIORS:

Growth and expansion have typified your lives since birth. You have grown individually in many ways. You have watched your schools, your town, and your country grow. In these dynamic days, growth will continue to be a characteristic of your lives, but from this point on, it will depend more and more on your own desire to grow.

You have earned a sound basic education. You must not, however, stop here. You must continue to seize every opportunity to grow in experience, in knowledge, in tolerance, and in willingness to accept responsibility. Only in this way will you keep pace with the growth and expansion which lie ahead.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

MR. QUENTIN REYNOLDS
Chairman

Faculty Council

In order to continue the strong and personal relationship between the classroom teacher and the administration, a Faculty Council has been organized. The function of the council is to maintain the closeness of small school operation and keep open two-way channels of ideas and communication within the staff.

The members of the council represent every area of the educational program. Each of the academic subjects is represented by its department head, but the teachers in the area of fine and practical arts select one of their colleagues to act as their representative. The Coordinator of Athletics represents the area of physical education and the Guidance Director speaks for those involved in that endeavor. Finally, the administration, club activities, and class activities are represented by the Principal and Assistant Principal.

Back row: Mr. Aldrich; Mr. D'Agostino; Mr. Lopes; Mr. Haskell; Mr. Dexter; Mr. Pratt.

Front row: Miss Erickson; Mr. Craver; Mr. Shindler; Miss MacIntyre.

Student Council

The Student Council is an executive body composed of representatives elected from every class. The primary responsibility of the council is the organization and supervision of the traffic squad. It also conducts many assemblies and sponsors the ever-popular Halloween Dance, Funday, and Playday. Lastly it accomplishes school service projects and awards two senior scholarships with funds earned from the sales of programs and refreshments at football games, bookcovers, banners, sweatshirts, and jackets.

Almost daily, improved methods of travel and communication shrink this earth on which we live. In a few short years the most remote spot on our globe may be as close to each of us as our telephone and our television set. World-wide travel may be taken for granted by today's high school graduates.

The need for mutual understanding with other peoples of the earth increases in direct proportion to contact with them. The trigger of nuclear war is fingered nervously by fear, suspicion, intolerance and lack of knowledge. Here is the area for growth and expansion!

Let us not forget that we human beings, regardless of our country and culture, have one Creator. We are much alike. Deep in the human heart, common feelings lie buried, feelings which are the opposite of hate and greed. It is upon this premise that we must continue to build.

W. Henry Cone

W. HENRY CONE
SUPERINTENDENT

As you are about to leave Longmeadow High School, let us pause a moment and consider that imaginary creature, The Common Man, an individual who has little dignity and who conforms to what is popular at the moment. The Uncommon Man is scorned and belittled; he should be valued.

Think for a moment of whom we want when we are sick—the uncommon doctor; when we are at war, the uncommon general; when we choose a president of a university—the uncommon educator. In such times and circumstances we seek the leadership of the Uncommon Man or Woman.

It is your right and responsibility to grow to be uncommon if you can. Seek opportunity, not security. Take the calculated risk; to dream and to build, to fail and to succeed. Prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence; the thrill of fulfillment to the stale calm of Utopia. Do not trade freedom for security, nor your dignity for a handout. When you get something for nothing, you do give up something—a part of yourself known as character.

Here at Longmeadow High School we, your teachers, have encouraged you to think and act for yourself, to inquire and form judgment, to seek the truth; and, when you find it, to proclaim it and vigorously defend it. We hope that your growth during the last four years has been in this direction.

Edgar G. Craver

EDGAR G. CRAVER
PRINCIPAL

Growth is unlimited, bound by only personal desires and ambitions. No matter where our lot in life is cast, we must open wide our minds and hearts to what is going on in the world around us. Complacency is one of the things we Americans have to fear most. Do not be content with the status quo, with mediocrity, but continue to grow in strength, in character, and in understanding. We need people who are not afraid of being different, who have the courage to speak what they believe, and who are not satisfied with surface explanations. Remember, Class of 1962, growth in the years ahead will be limited by only your individual demands. Demand the best.

JUNIOR CLASS ADVISORS

Miss Baird; Mr. Joly

Junior Class

After reaching the upper rungs of the ladder, the Junior Class spent the year in preparation for the time when they would undertake the leadership of the school. Under the supervision of Miss Baird and Mr. Joly, the class advisors, the election ran smoothly and efficiently, with Steve Parker taking on the responsibilities of president, and Jim Finn those of vice-president. Chosen to handle the technicalities of class government were Meredith Mudgett, secretary, and Nancy Almgren, treasurer. With the help of these able officers, the class sponsored a very successful Junior Prom, using as its theme the beauty and regal atmosphere of the Middle Ages. Not wishing to be outdone by their predecessors, the Juniors have also taken an active part in the American Field Service program. Mindful of the future and of the responsibilities that will soon be theirs, the Juniors have proved themselves to be a capable and reliable class.

Sophomore Class

Rising in status, the Class of 1964 commenced its sophomore year by electing its officers. Bob Mauterstock was chosen as president, Jim Purdy as vice-president, Pam Stone as secretary, and Laurie Ronaldson as treasurer. The class began the fall season by placing several of its boys on junior varsity and varsity athletic squads. The winter season was highlighted by its dance, "Wonderland by Night," which was a great success. The class officers were ably assisted by their conscientious advisors, Mrs. Leab and Mr. Drossel.

FRESHMAN ADVISORS

Mr. Whittaker; Miss Gadaire.

Freshman Class

The Freshman Class has reached the first plateau, having conquered the challenge of studies, extra-curricular activities, and the new experience of examinations. President Robert Levine, Vice-President Roger Wilson, Secretary Linda Scott, and Treasurer Carol Feldman, with the guidance of Miss Gadaire and Mr. Whittaker assumed the leadership of the largest Freshman class in the history of Longmeadow High. Almost two hundred fifty students have managed to maintain good academic standing and also produce a successful spring dance as their first effort as a class. The class looks forward to three more busy and challenging years at Longmeadow High School.

Masacksic

Intent upon earning a First Prize at the Columbia Scholastic Press Conference in New York, the staff of the 1962 Masacksic settled down to a year of hard work. After several meetings and much deliberation, the format of this edition was changed in an effort to make this 1962 book even better than its predecessors. Innovations included a double-dedication, concealed by the editors until June, pictures captioned with the student's full name, and a new and enlarged Senior Section. The staff itself welcomed the addition of a new face, Mr. Kirby Judd, Literary Advisor. To Mr. Judd goes a great deal of thanks for his time spent both in learning and in teaching.

Yet the success of the Masacksic depended not only on the efforts of the staff, but on the cooperation and enthusiasm of the entire student body and the Longmeadow community. The student body supported the Masacksic by purchasing copies of the annual and the townspeople contributed generously through business advertisements. Encouraged by this cooperation, the staff has produced a book that it hopes will accurately portray life at Longmeadow High School and also serve as a souvenir of the graduating class of 1962 for students and town residents.

Jet Jotter

The JET JOTTER, the only LHS news publication, has completed its seventh year under Co-Editors Dede Wiley and Pam Carson, Business Manager Myron Kaplan, seven department editors, and advisors Mr. Barsum and Miss Jensen.

The Jet Jotter's admission to the Columbia Scholastic Press Association was an important advance for the newspaper. The CSPA is a nonprofit organization dedicated to the improvement of school publications.

Other innovations included more photographs, fewer advertisements, several new feature columns, a new format for the "Student of the Month" column, and two six page issues. These changes, and more, made this year the Jet Jotter's most successful year.

National Honor Society

At the beginning of the school year a new slate of officers was elected. Ronnie Finn became president and Bill Ferris, Betsy Russell, and Ginny Shakour, became vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively. As usual, the society spent a busy year checking coats at all school social functions to raise money for its scholarship. Neil Markson, chairman, and the various chairmen of the day supervised the tutoring service that the society offers all students. The society's most important event of the year came on December 20, when the annual alumni - faculty - get - together was held. Thanks to Miss MacIntyre, and to all members, the National Honor Society spent an enjoyable and useful year.

TRAFFIC SQUAD CO-CAPTAINS
Jack Keiser and Jeff Hopkins

Traffic Squad

The duty of the Traffic Squad, which is composed of junior and senior boys, is to preserve order throughout the corridors of the school. With Mr. Shindler as faculty advisor and Jack Keiser and Jeff Hopkins as Co-Captains, this year's squad has been noted for its fine organization.

In addition to maintaining order in the halls between classes, the squad, under the immediate direction of wing captains Tim Paige, Tom Clarke, and David Charlesworth, must check passes during activity periods. Supervising the cafeteria is another important duty of the squad. Although the number of students at Longmeadow High has grown, the Traffic Squad continues to operate with maximum efficiency.

Voici Paris!

French Club

One of the newest clubs in our school is the French Club, "Le Cercle Français". Membership is open to all second, third, and fourth year French students. The club was formed under the direction of Mr. Whittaker for the purpose of bringing students in contact with French culture and civilization, and it meets twice a month. The year's program has included lectures and slides about France. Senior Jerianne Alberti entertained the group early in the year with a program describing her recent trip to France. The officers of the French Club for the year are Neil Markson, president; Betty Hernberg, vice-president; Jean Macleod, secretary; and Judy Leers, treasurer.

Latin Club

The Forum Romanum, under the capable. supervision of Mrs. Leab, exists to stimulate interest in Latin. Any Latin student may become a member and attend the monthly meetings.

The most significant project of the club is the annual Latin banquet at which the students dress and eat as the Romans did. The Latin Club also schedules movies which illustrate Roman life and customs.

The officers of the Latin Club are Myron Kaplan, president; John Baron, vice-president; Barbara Goff, secretary; and Debbie Frisbie, treasurer.

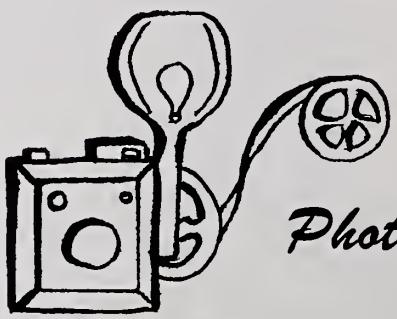
Audio Visual Aids Club

The Audio Visual Aids Club, supervised by Mr. Pratt, has again done excellent work in fulfilling its main function, to assist the faculty with the operation of record players, film projectors, and tape recorders. In its sixth year of operation, the club chose Frank Weitzman its president and Bob Dorman vice-president.

In addition to rendering technical services to the faculty, the club arranges the lighting for dances, the public-address system for football games, and the lights and special effects for dramatic presentations. It has again rendered invaluable assistance to all of these activities this year.



Photography Club

Dramatic Club Cycloramists

It was April 6, opening night at Longmeadow High School for a cast of thirty-five players and a huge behind-the-scenes stage crew. Andy Cox, comedy lead of "The Skin of Our Teeth," nervously put on the last dab of make-up before the curtain rose. Al Wood and Pam Carson, portraying husband and wife, married for five thousand years, anxiously practiced last minute cues. Margie Fox rehearsed her whining while Bill Ferris tried to transform himself into the rebellious teen-ager he would portray. Mr. Lopes, meanwhile, calmly took his seat in the front row to watch the performance.

. . . It was April 7, and the curtain had just fallen after the final performance. The applause was long and behind the curtain there was much excitement and happiness.

There are many service clubs in the school which, because of the nature of their work, receive much recognition. This is true of the Cycloramists, who add a touch of creativity to the decoration of the school building. Under the direction of Miss Erickson, they have elected Brooks Young, president; Polli Cone, vice-president; and Judy Leers, secretary. Through the combined efforts of the whole group, bulletin boards in the halls and classrooms have been decorated, and settings have been made for the annual school play. This club not only offers an indispensable service to the school, but serves as a means by which its members may express their artistic talent.

The Creative Writing Club

The Creative Writing Club under the direction of Miss Eaton has, during its third year, continued to stimulate interest in student literary talent. Moderator Peggy Schwartz, assistant moderator Jack Settle, and secretary Alice Varney have led the club in discussion and criticism of its members' writing. This year the club published the second collection of its works—Opus II.

The World Affairs Club

The World Affairs Club has completed another successful year under the direction and inspiration of its advisor, Mr. Joly. The early fall programs included a school-wide assembly to discuss the problem of divided Vietnam, and Wednesday afternoon discussion topics such as the Common Market and Africa. Winter projects were a debate, "Conservatism vs. Liberalism", a discussion on the new book "America Listen", and many more interesting items. On the spring agenda was participation in the Model Congress, and Model Security Council. The Club officers, President Peter Cherbas, Vice-President Karen Stothert, and Secretary Jerianne Alberti, join Mr. Joly and the club members in feeling proud of a year's work well done.

American Field Service

The American Field Service program in Longmeadow has expanded faster than any other. This program, whose purpose is to promote better relationships and understanding between countries, was first started in 1960 when Sheila Malone came to Longmeadow from Ireland. The following summer Tom Clarke represented Longmeadow in Denmark, and in the fall Gilla Richter came to spend a year with us from Germany.

Much has also been done to establish a permanent Longmeadow Chapter of AFS. A committee of townspeople has been formed, with Jim Pool and Betsy Russell serving as student representatives and Mr. Shindler as the faculty representative. Mr. Shindler also served as supervisor of the drive held each spring to provide the funds for our foreign students. The town has been divided into sections, and each year it is the job of the AFS student members to visit each person to solicit funds and create interest in the program.

Future Teachers of America

Under the leadership of Mr. Houle, the Future Teachers of America is one of the most active groups at Longmeadow High School. Spurred on with enthusiasm by its officers — Sandy Dyson, president; Betty Hernberg, vice-president; Muffet Dale, secretary; Carol Sunter, treasurer; and Kaethe Cosgriff, librarian, the club has participated in many events. In pursuit of knowledge about the teaching profession, its members enjoyed movies, lectures, discussions, and actual observation of teaching in schools of the Longmeadow system. During National Education Week, the club sponsored an assembly featuring Mr. Stanley C. Ross who spoke on "One Step Further in Education". This year's group has established a precedent for following years. They conducted a bake sale to raise funds for a scholarship which will be offered to a deserving senior interested in the teaching profession.

High School Red Cross

A variety of projects filled the program of the High School Red Cross Club. Mrs. Rita Carmody, the faculty advisor, and officers Karen Hardy, president; Roberta Goldberg, vice-president; Barb Goff, secretary; and Jan Silansky, treasurer, directed approximately seventy members in monthly meetings. Decorating for a Halloween dance at the veterans' hospital, conducting a school-wide membership drive in November and December, and entertaining hospitalized servicemen at Westover Air Force Base were some of the activities that filled a busy year.

Keep the presses rolling!

Business Club

The Business Club, supervised by Mr. Dankevich, has thirty-two members, who have actively participated in this year's program. Under the leadership of President Howard Goldberg, Vice-president Nancy Milton, Treasurer Tom Rachele, and Secretary Bonnie Richards, the members have assisted the school staff with typing, mimeographing, and stencil work. As another of its activities the club took a field trip to the New England Telephone Company. A great deal of thanks should be given to the Business Club for the services it has rendered the school.

Chess Club

The Chess Club, with its faculty advisor, Mr. William Ahern, met nearly every Tuesday afternoon during the school year. The club's activities required only one officer, a secretary-manager, and Hoyt Poole was elected to this important position. Between November and December, a "ladder" was established with the seven strongest players at the top. As the new year began, the chess team organized and played a full schedule of meets with several high schools in this area.

The Junior Achievement Bank

The Junior Achievement Savings Bank opened for its eighth consecutive year in November, 1961. Sponsored by the Springfield Institution for Savings, the Lancer Savings Bank is headed by Myra Katten and Nancy Lichter, executive vice-president and treasurer, respectively. Mr. Drossel serves as faculty advisor while Mr. Cross, Mrs. Geary, Mrs. Morrell and Miss Owens represent the S.I.S. The bank is open for business Monday during lunch periods for students and faculty.

The Peddler Comes to Town

"All 'Er Nuthin"

"Oh What A Beautiful Morning"

Oklahoma

The weeks before April seventh and eighth were weeks of great activity at L.H.S. This was because the musical, "Oklahoma", was in its final stages of production. The play was ably managed by several members of the faculty: Mr. Warner, Mr. Burkle, and Mrs. Wells, who directed the acting, music and dancing, respectively; Mr. Rossiter, who directed the stage crew; and Miss Erickson, who was the expert on scenery and make-up.

The play, starring John Wickstead and Shirlee Bocchino (as male and female leads), was a smash success during each of its performances. Judging from the excellent newspaper reviews, we can be sure that the audience left the auditorium satisfied with this exhibition of Longmeadow High School talent.

Fashion Show and Art Exhibit

To bring the school year 1960-1961 to a successful close, a fashion show, directed by Mrs. Gertrude Blakeborough, and an art exhibit under the direction of Miss Lillian Erickson, were held. All girls who were enrolled in home economics classes participated by modeling the clothes which they had made. To add special zest to the program, several senior boys called for the girls and then escorted them off-stage. The unusual feature of the year's show was Mrs. Well's modeling her wedding dress, which had been made by Linda Waskiewicz, a senior student.

The paintings in the art show were all done by students in the high school art classes and the parents who attended the exhibit were asked to judge them and to vote for the one they liked the best. Janice Holter and Scott Kahn were in charge of the voting. After the ballots were counted, it was found that Dave Stockman's painting had been selected as the favorite.

Beyond any doubt, last year's fashion show and art exhibit were the most successful yet presented.

Sixth Science Fair

The sixth annual Science Fair, held on March 22, 1961, under the direction of Mr. Pratt, gave students a chance to display their abilities in the science field. Over seventy projects were entered for display and competition. The projects were divided into four categories: general science, biology, physics, and chemistry.

The judges were science instructors from local schools and colleges and representatives of local business firms connected with science. First prize winners in each section were: Bill Leab, biology; Ronnie Finn and Myron Kaplan, chemistry; Don Kalecher, physics; and Linda Silverman, general science.

The judging and awarding of prizes was done in the afternoon of March 22, and in the evening, from seven to nine, many residents of Longmeadow and surrounding communities came to see the exhibits.

Funday

On Wednesday, April 26, the annual Funday, under the direction of Mr. Suher, was presented to the student body. Each year this program is sponsored by the Student Council which donates all Funday proceeds to its scholarship fund. Highlights of the show included the appearance of Dale Richter as an ex-fiddler of the czar of Russia and Phil Collins as a talented French painter. "Dollie Dimwit", Whitney Ronaldson, then presented her charming models, Jim Walling, Dave Baker, Bill Bateman, Ned Cummings, and Zane Mirkin, who displayed the latest spring fashions. The show was concluded with several acts presented by the faculty: the McQueer Sisters (Messrs. Josselyn, Ursprung, Haskell, and D'Agostino) and "Jubilation T. Cornpone", Mrs. Pelczarski, displayed their talents in this portion of the program.

Junior Prom 1961

Although the decorations for the "Mardi Gras" were appropriate, the weather was not. The gym was decorated in white, gold, and American beauty roses, with an impressive gold and rose throne overlooking the ball room.

Outside the night was decorated with white. However, the snow did not dampen the evening for David Charlesworth and Patty Thomas who were crowned king and queen by Mr. MacFarlane. The Prom co-chairmen, Jim Pool and Pam Carson, and the weatherman planned a night that will be remembered.

Senior Week

Next week at this time we will be sentimentally reminiscing about one of the most memorable weeks of our lives—Senior Week. Pictured here are some scenes from last year's Senior Week: the banquet, held at Wiggins Tavern; the Senior Prom, organized by Elaine Guistina and Rich Matulewicz; and Graduation, where Brian Edgerly gave his Commencement Speech, and Tom Clarke and Carolyn Young served as Marshals.

One week from today our Senior Week will be over. Although we will be exhausted and very sad, we will be anxiously looking forward to seeing pictures of our Senior Week in next year's Masacksic.

Baseball

A combination of good pitching and solid hitting were the key factors in the 13-2 record compiled by the 1961 Lancer baseball team. Brian Edgerly (5-0), Richie Matulewicz (3-0), Jeff Hopkins (3-1), and Pete Brand (2-0) all pitched good baseball throughout the season and wound up with a 2.19 earned-run-average. John Mayock (.364), Jimmy Walling (.440), Garry Gibson (.340), and Brian Edgerly (.441) backed up a good pitching staff by outslugging the opposition. As a team, Longmeadow scored three times as many runs as all of its opponents combined.

The highlight of the season was the Lancer's first trip to the Western Massachusetts baseball tournament. The Lancers failed to play their usual brand of good baseball and were beaten by Chicopee High, who later became state champions. However, the experience gained at the tournament should prove invaluable to next year's team. This experience as well as the return of four starters, including two starting pitchers, makes their prospects for the 1962 season seem very favorable.

Outstanding performances were given by Bill Matulewicz, Don Temple, Bob Cohen, and Steve Parker. The highlight of the season came when the team defeated West Springfield, three runs to two, all runs having been earned by the errors of the other team.

The members of this strong J. V. squad will form the nucleus of next year's varsity team.

Track

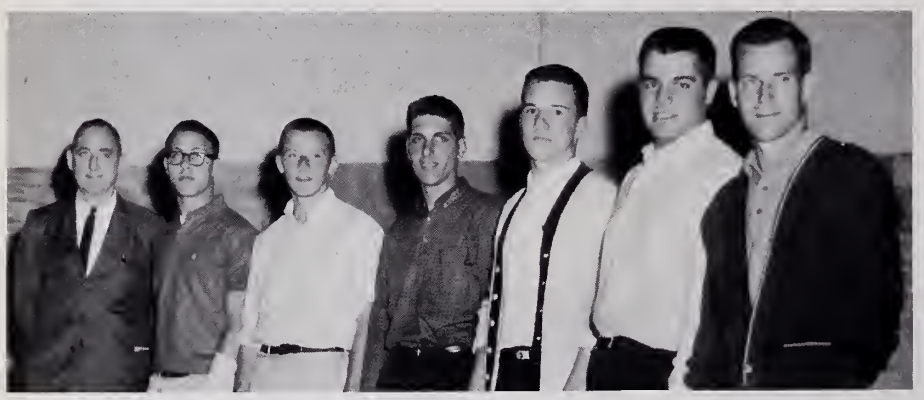
The 1961 track team had the finest record in the history of Longmeadow High. Coached by Mr. Ursprung, this outstanding track squad compiled a record of five wins, one second place, and only three losses.

Outstanding performances by individuals brought many new changes in the record book. Versatile Dale Richter, who was high point man, set records in the 220-yard dash, the 180-yard low hurdles, and the shot put. Dave Charlesworth, second high scorer, established records in the 880-yard run, and the high jump. Bob Taylor, a powerful runner, tied the existing 100-yard dash, and set a new record in the broad jump. Jim Thompson had the unique honor of breaking his own record in the javelin throw. Bill Ferris, a newcomer, showed natural running ability and became a consistent winner in the mile run. Another newcomer, Larry Bernstein, performed commendably in the 440-yard run. The efforts of Bruce Schiff in the pole vault, John Sellers in the javelin, Jan Silansky in the sprints, Larry Stahlberg in the shot put, and Nel Markson in the broad jump also helped to make a winning track team. Newcomers Bob Mauterstock, in the weights, and Chris Smith, in the mile, look promising in their events. With the development of interest in track, the Lancers should become a powerful track team in this area.



Coach Haskell; Zane Mirkin, Dave Streeter; Ralph Rachele; Frank Kraft; Bill Niemi; Phil Collins.

Golf

The 1961 Lancer golf team compiled a successful 5-5-1 record. Phil Collins was the number one man on the team, followed by Dave Streeter, Zane Mirkin, and Bill Niemi. Highlights of the season included Dave Streeter's hole-in-one on the 167 yard, par three, seventh hole of the Longmeadow Country Club, and Phil Collins's two over par 73 at the same course. Phil placed ninth in the Massachusetts State Schoolboy Golf Tournament, and this was the climax to the successful season.

Tennis

Under the able direction of coach Maurice Suher, the Longmeadow tennis team was sparked to a successful season of eight wins and four losses. Tim Purdy, top man, led the team to many victories, the most notable being two wins over Technical High School. Other impressive performances in single matches were given by Steve Parker, Jay Deely, and Bill Simons and in doubles by Myron Kaplan and Cary Coen. The highlight of the season was Jay Deely's reaching the quarterfinals of the Western Massachusetts High School Tennis Tournament.

Junior Varsity Football

The Junior Varsity Football team, coached by Mr. Ryder and Mr. Burke, completed the season with one win and six losses. Despite their defeats, the J. V. squad was spirited, with such players as Charles Arnold, Clark Shattuck, Ken Hollister, John Potter, Wells Chandler, and Mark Williams, contributing to their one overwhelming victory over Minnechaug, 58 to 0. The J. V. team gained much experience during this season which should prove valuable in future years.

Varsity Football

The Longmeadow High School Football Team enjoyed a successful season of seven wins and one loss in its debut in the Suburban League. Under the excellent leadership of Coach Ursprung and Coach D'Agostino, an inexperienced but determined Lancer squad developed into a powerful football team.

The Lancers opened the 1961 season with a 14-12 win over South Hadley. Jeff Hopkins set up the winning touchdown drive in the fourth period with a 43 yard punt return. Steve Parker then brought the winning touchdown with less than 48 seconds remaining in the game. In the next game, quarterback Jeff Hopkins threw two touchdown passes to Tom Clarke, and carried the ball himself for the third touchdown to beat Tantasqua Regional 22-6. Longmeadow increased its winning streak to ten games with a 14-6 victory over Ludlow. Because of their strength and experience, the Lancers had little trouble defeating Minnechaug 34-0. Jeff Hopkins again led the team to victory with three touchdowns. Steve Parker, Don Greenwell, and Don Temple also scored for the Lancer cause. Longmeadow's 30-14 victory over Palmer marked its twelfth consecutive victory establishing the longest winning streak in the history of the school. The Lancers scored on the first kickoff when Steve Parker ran 81 yards for the first touchdown. From then on, Longmeadow had little trouble controlling the game. A high-spirited Enfield team handed Longmeadow its first setback of the season, 34-12. Longmeadow followed this defeat with a hard-fought 28-20 victory over East Longmeadow. In the final game of the season, Longmeadow whipped its arch-rival, Classical High School, by a score of 40-14. Halfback Steve Parker was the outstanding player with three touchdowns. The highly successful Hopkins-to-Clarke combination was responsible for two more touchdowns.

Because of their outstanding playing ability, co-captains Jeff Hopkins and Tom Clarke were selected for the Suburban League All-Star Team and the All-Western Massachusetts Team. Powerhouse end Tom Clarke was also named to the Wigwam Wiseman All American Team.

With many returning lettermen, next year's football team, led by co-captains Steve Parker and Steve Goldberg, should continue Longmeadow's fine winning tradition.

Soccer

Speed and aggressiveness were the keynotes of the 1961 season. Led by co-captains Tim Paige and Jack Keiser, the Lancer booters won eight games, lost five, and tied one to complete an impressive season against some of the toughest competition in the area. Highlights of the season included victories over undefeated Ludlow, and unscored-upon Cathedral; Jim Pool's five goals in one game to tie a league record; the development of Bill Matulewicz into one of the league's top goalies; the aggressive play of Jack Keiser and Ricky Cowles; Jim Pool's eighteen goals, all made in a single season, which set a new record for the Pioneer Valley League; and the fine performance of underclassmen on a team which lacked depth. One of the disappointments of the season was that Longmeadow came so close to winning a place in the Western Massachusetts tournament, but was not selected. Post season all-star selections unanimously placed Jack Keiser and Jim Pool on the Pioneer Valley team, while Tim Paige, Bill Simons, and Jay Deely received honorable mention.

The 1962 team, which will be captained by Ricky Cowles and Jim Finn and will have several starters from this year's team will have the potential to bring Longmeadow High School its first Western Massachusetts championship.

Junior Varsity Soccer

The Junior Varsity Soccer team, coached by Mr. Climo, and Larry Holt, his assistant-coach from Springfield College, enjoyed a season with the excellent record of eight wins, five losses, and one tie. In almost all of the season's matches, the scores were so close, that victory could have fallen to either side. At mid-season the record of the team stood at two wins, five losses, and one tie. Against great odds, the J.V.'s made an amazing comeback by winning their last six games of the year. The team was victorious through the efforts of Jack Sickel, Alan Cowles, Pete Miller, Murray Leety, Bob Chaffe, and goalie Jim Harrelson. These boys will be a great asset to future varsity squads.

Basketball

The year 1962 marked the sixth consecutive season that the Longmeadow High varsity basketball team completed a winning season. Inexperience and lack of height prevented Coach Haskell's squad from doing better than their eight wins and five losses. With only Tom Clarke returning from the previous year's starting five, it was necessary for Coach Haskell to develop a team built entirely upon last year's second string and a group of newcomers from the junior varsity. Pete Brand, Jeff Hopkins, Bill Matulewicz, Tom Donelley, Jim Pool, and Bill Simons, playing their first full session of varsity basketball, participated in most of the games.

The season itself was highlighted by several close ballgames. Easthampton, East Longmeadow, and both games with Classical were won by Lancers by less than four points. However, tough opposition such as Northampton and Lee defeated the Lancers, and in the case of the latter, ended Longmeadow's 20 game winning streak of home games.

Next year's prospects seem quite bright with the return of Bill Matulewicz, Steve Parker, Steve Goldberg, and Bob Patterson along with a fine junior varsity squad moving up to the varsity level. These boys should provide Lancer basketball fans with many thrills.

Hockey

The 1962 Lancer Hockey Team ended its first season in the Robert T. Berry League with a 3-12 record. In spite of the keener competition, Coach Ryder, with the assistance of Coach Wiley developed an inexperienced hockey squad into a hard playing team. Although the Lancers won only three of their games, they showed great spirit and determination. Sophomores Don Temple and John Potter led the Lancer attack with their fine passing and shooting. A strong sophomore bench including Frank Diver, Tim Beaulieu, John Donahoe, Peter Leven, Bob Chaffee, and Murray Leety contributed much to the Lancer cause. John Wickstead and Dave Streeter were the key men on the defense. Senior Joe Bottone did an outstanding job in the goal with his magnificent saves.

Joe Bottone

After seven straight losses, the Lancers showed their determination to win with a hard fought 1-0 victory over Trade High School. John Donahoe, assisted by Gene Sokolowski, scored the only goal for Longmeadow, while Joe Bottone's fierce net play prevented Trade from scoring. Another win over Trade marked the Lancer's second win and this time the score was 3-1. However, the crowning game of the 1962 season was a strong 3-2 victory over league-leading West Side. John Potter led the scoring with two goals and Murray Leety scored Longmeadow's other goal.

With most of the hockey team returning next year, the Lancers should develop into a formidable power in the Robert T. Berry League.

Freshman Basketball 1958

On that fall morning in 1958 when the class of 1962 entered the still-unfinished modern school building on Grassy-Gutter Road I was one of those trembling freshmen who edged gingerly through the doorway.

Ah . . . the good old days . . . I remember our class's first days at Longmeadow High School: each morning we assembled inside a bare framework of cement and steel called a "homeroom." I didn't need a place for my coat, because lack of heat in the "frosh wing" forced me to wear it all the time.

The first thing of importance that I did was to elect class officers. Tim Paige was elected president, Mary Ellen Mulkerin, vice-president, Cynthia Moyer, secretary, and Jim Pool, treasurer. These four officers also represented me on the Student Council.

Trying to join as many activities as possible, I enthusiastically entered the Science Fair, and, although I didn't win, Carolyn Young and Molly Garrels from my class received an honorable mention for their display of Ralph (who, in case you've forgotten, was a chicken). In auditioning for "The Matchmaker," my nervousness was so apparent that the part when to someone else. However, my class was represented in the cast by Pam Carson and Joan Raffeld. As a meek freshman, I obediently took part in the lunch strike. (Even in those days, we had American chop suey every other Monday!) Needless to say, the rebellion didn't improve the lunches to any noticeable degree.

I remember "April in Paris," the freshman dance organized by my class advisors, Mr. Aldrich and Mrs. Leab. Tim Paige served as chairman of the dance, but despite his efforts, the boys sat on one side, the girls on the other, and the dance went into the red.

In March, the basketball team entered the Small Schools Tournament where it was beaten in the finals by St. Joseph's. The girls had no physical education classes the first half-year and used the two extra study periods to advantage. (In those days I couldn't go to the library without a pass.)

Sophomore year brought a change of advisors: Mrs. Wanegar replaced Mrs. Leab, who became freshman advisor. Once more, Tim Paige was elected president and Cynthia Moyer, secretary. Betsy Russell was chosen vice-president, and Carolyn Cummings, treasurer. Serving me on Student Council were Tim Paige, Bob Rossow, Cynthia Moyer, and Carolyn Young.

My first money-making project after entering high school was the sophomore dance, "Winter Whirl," organized by Roberta Goldberg. Soon after that affair came the school play, which found Jerianne Alberti and Cynthia Moyer as understudies for two of the six roles in "Papa is All."

Our basketball team was again selected for the Small Schools Tournament at Amherst. However, we were defeated in the finals, this time by Amherst Regional High. For the girls, gym classes were once more in full swing. At the Girls' Sport Night, held in April, Mary Ellen Mulkerin, White Team, and Carolyn Young, Jet Team, were chosen as co-captains of their respective teams for junior year. At the end of the year, Dede Wiley was selected to write for "Spotlight on Youth," a Sunday newspaper column about the school.

In my junior year, I became a true upperclassman. In the election of class officers, Tim Paige became president for a third term and Carol Young, secretary. Vice-president was Bob Rossow, and treasurer, Carolyn Cummings. Tim was elected vice-president of the Student Council, Tom Clarke, treasurer, and Carolyn Young, secretary, as the Junior Class swept three of four possible offices. Bob Rossow was the fourth council representative.

Turning to sports, I enjoyed watching several amazingly successful Lancer teams. The Lancer football team went undefeated, winning seven games. Tom Clarke was selected for the All-Independent football team after the season. In hockey, Longmeadow took the Suburban League crown and went to the state tournament in Boston. There they lost a close game to powerful Woburn. Our basketball team had lost only one game at the end of the regular season, and we were invited to the Small Schools Tournament in Amherst. There we gained the finals for the third time. Spring brought fame to LHS when our girls won the Massachusetts girls' gymnastic title. Two outstanding junior performers were Carolyn Young and Betsy Russell.

Near the end of winter, Molly Garrels's family moved to England. Forty classmates and I, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarke, chartered a bus and rode to New York at 5 a.m. on the morning of her departure. After I had seen Molly off, I toured New York city. Arriving home both "beat" and broke, I went straight to bed. In February, the Junior Prom was held to the music of Tony Ravosa's band. It was a tremendous financial success, thanks to the generosity of Cora Whittum's dad, who supplied the tickets. The dance got under way when Dave Charlesworth and Pat Thomas were elected king and queen of the snowiest "Mardi Gras" ever seen in the United States. Dance co-chairmen Jim Pool and Pam Carson were aided by several efficient committee chairmen: Decorations — Roberta Goldberg and Betsy Russell; Tickets — Jack Keiser and Mary Ellen Mulkerin; Publicity — Bill Ferris; Band — Neil Markson; Invitations — Cynthia Moyer; Refreshments — Joanne Barreca; and Transportation — Bob Hoff.

The remainder of the winter was notable for two outstanding events, the annual Science Fair, and the successful production of Longmeadow High School's first musical, "Oklahoma." Several of my classmates received awards; Ron Finn, Myron Kaplan, and Neil Homstead received prizes in chemistry. Ron and Myron won first place and Neil was second; Bob Rossow, with senior John Sellers, took second in biology. In "Oklahoma" John Wickstead made his debut as the leading male singer; Andy Cox starred as the flirtatious "Ado Annie"; and Cynthia Moyer played the part of "Gertie," a prominent supporting role.

In the spring, LHS made plans to select its first American Field Service exchange student. A fund drive was organized by student representatives Jim Pool and Betsy Russell, and the names of six candidates were finally submitted. From these six (Jerianne Alberti, Pam Carson, Tom Clarke, Cynthia Moyer, Dede Wiley, and Carolyn Young), Tom Clarke was selected by the New York office to visit Denmark during the summer. I remember hearing of Tom's selection while attending a rehearsal for Funday, another important spring ritual sponsored by the Student Council. "Funners" from our class were prominent in "Gremlin U.," "The Hula Wahines," "The Dixieland Five," and several other specialty acts. The contributions of the Class of "62" helped to make Funday, 1961, the most successful one the school had had.

Many juniors received special recognition at the end of the year. Tom Clarke, Neil Markson, David Charlesworth, and Myron Kaplan received the Harvard, Dartmouth, Williams, and Brown Book Awards, respectively; David Charlesworth and Myron Kaplan were selected for Boys' State and Neil Markson was chosen as their alternate. Kitty Kaynor was selected for Girls' State, and Jerianne Alberti was chosen her alternate. Ginny Shakour was appointed Governor's Aide for the Exposition. Carolyn Cummings was chosen captain of the cheerleaders and Cynthia Moyer captained the Drill Team. Several weeks later, in anticipation of our own graduation, I eagerly watched as Carolyn Young and Tom Clarke led the Class of 1961 into the auditorium for the closing ceremonies of its senior year.

Our new principal, Mr. Edgar G. Craver, was the first to greet me and my friends in the fall of our senior year. Zombies in appearance, but students at heart, we were suddenly bogged down by the responsibility of leadership in our senior year, by the extra homework (Mr. Lopes had returned!), and by a multitude of college applications. The Masacksic, edited by Ginny Shakour, who was assisted by Junior Karen Stothert, became bigger and better than ever. The Jet Jotter, organized by Pam Carson and Dede Wiley, also grew, astonishing the students with two six-page issues.

Early in the fall, "The Mystery Hop," run by newly-elected class officers, Tom Clarke, president; Jeff Hopkins, vice-president; Cynthia Moyer, secretary; and Carolyn Cummings, treasurer, featured Jim Pool and Joe Rowland as the mystery "deejays." At a class meeting in October, a new law, introduced by politico John Adiletti, was received enthusiastically by my class. It stated that no senior could be both a Student Council member and a class officer; in this way we hoped to encourage more students to participate in student government. Serving as Council president was David Charlesworth, while Carolyn Young was again elected secretary. Tim Paige and Bob Rossow represented me on the Council, along with honorary member, Gilla Richter, our witty and poised exchange student from Germany, a welcome addition to the class.

The football team captained by Tom Clarke and Jeff Hopkins, finished with an impressive 7—1 record, including an easy triumph over arch-rival Classical. The soccer team, with Tim Paige and Jack Keiser as captains, ended with a 8—5—1 record. Jack Keiser, Bill Simons, Tim Paige, and Jay Deely were mentioned on the All-Pioneer Valley soccer team, and Tom Clarke and Jeff Hopkins were selected for the All-Western Massachusetts football team. The basketball season was very thrilling—almost every game was close. Although I was disappointed when we were not invited to a post-season tournament, I felt the team's 8—5 record represented a successful season. The hockey team, coached by Mr. Ryder in Mr. Ness's year-long absence, was not so fortunate. We lost all but three games, although we did upset league champion West Springfield in a close game.

Towards the middle of the year, the Essay Contest results were finally announced. Jim Pool received a typewriter; Kitty Kaynor, an unabridged dictionary; and Mary Ellen Mulkerin, a collegiate dictionary, for their papers on "Our American Heritage." Soon after that, Carolyn Young was chosen to receive the DAR award.

"The Skin of Our Teeth," a unique comedy, was presented in the spring. Andy Cox once more captured the audience with her naive statements as the maid. Al Wood and Pam Carson, as husband and wife, added amusing touches to the plot, while Bill Ferris portrayed their rebellious son.

This is the history so far, but there is another chapter yet to be added—Senior Week! Senior Month! and then, for most, Freshman Year all over again. As the years go by, I will read over this record many times, each time more proudly—for I MADE HISTORY.

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1962

We, the Class of 1962, being of sound minds and bodies do hereby declare this to be our last will and testament and bequeath the following:

Tom Clarke leaves football and girls for more football and girls.
Jeff Hopkins leaves . . . smiling.
Cindy Moyer leaves in a cloud of smoke.
Carolyn Cummings leaves for the University of Massachusetts.
Gilla Richter leaves . . . but we hope she will return.
A certain group of Seniors leaves the pumpkin fields empty!
Bill Godfrey leaves to L.H.S. everything he can't take with him.
Tim Paige forgets to leave!
The football team leave their pink pillows to Coaches D'Agostino and Ursprung.
Droll and Jay leave together.
Kitty Kaynor leaves her bottle of peroxide to a daring Junior girl.
Kenny Lang leaves "The Organization" in the capable hands of Joey Rowland.
John Hunter leaves on High "C"
The Masacksic business staff leaves Room 2 a mess.
Judy Shindler leaves her father.
Room 14 leaves Miss Landry a bottle of tranquilizers.
"Weasel" leaves the flying rings empty.
Al Wood leaves L.H.S. . . . for the last time.
Nancy Lichter leaves Paula to keep an eye on the boys.
The class of "62" leaves Ray's Grinders to anyone with a seasoned stomach.
Ginny Shakour leaves her lover's hideaway to Miss MacIntyre.
John Condon leaves . . . Surprise!
Sandy Steinberg leaves—debating the point.
Carol Sowers leaves her boys to anyone who can handle them.
The Driver Education Students leave a crash helmet to Mr. Finkelhoff.
The Seniors leave 145 empty desks to 250 Freshman.
Gay Shattuck leaves her dimples to Mr. Lopes.
The Senior girls leave Mr. Warner . . . regretfully.
John Norton leaves a candelabra to next year's Liberace.
The Senior Class leaves singing "Zombi Jamboree".
Helene Ponce leaves a jar of mustard to next year's ham.
The class of 1962 leaves Ann Murphy to keep a maternal eye on the school.
To the class of "63" we leave the saying: "Don't learn the tricks of the trade; learn the trade."
To the faculty of L.H.S. we leave gratitude for their help and the patience shown us during the past four years.
In conclusion, the class of "62" departs, hoping that with our effort, enthusiasm, and determination we have done our part to leave L.H.S. "just a little bit better."

We, the Seniors, on this tenth day of June, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-two, in the town of Longmeadow, County of Hampden, and the state of Massachusetts, do hereby solemnly affix our names.

It would be impossible to print here any thought impressive enough to cause the reader to buy printing from us at some future time. We will not try. We have paid money for space in which to express our best wishes to those to whom this yearbook is dedicated. We hope we will still be producing fine problem-solving printing when some of the graduates become purchasing agents.

"Bank Day" at the Lancer Savings Bank, a Junior Achievement Company, provides the opportunity for Longmeadow High School students to save ahead for the things they need and want.

But the need for saving does not end with graduation. How you handle your money will play an important part in your happiness, for if you spend unwisely, you will find your money gone and your real goals still unattained.

Make this important decision now — that you will save regularly. Lancer bank books may always be used at any S.I.S. office, or we will be glad to open a new book if you have none.

When you graduate it's wonderful to have a telephone job waiting for you. You'll love the friendly new people you meet. And you'll like the excellent salary, the regular increases, the opportunities for advancement and the many additional benefits that make working for the Telephone Company so attractive to so many young people.

Telephone jobs are important ones. We have our own training program which you can enter without any previous job experience.

Why not come and see our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate. Ask the Guidance Counselor at your school to tell you when and where to apply.
